This was the first meeting of the Rocky Habitat Working Group as part of the second phase of the update to the Territorial Sea Plan - Part 3. Many of the members of the Phase 1 working group volunteered to continue working on this update process. The membership lists for both the Phase 1 and Phase 2 working groups are available at www.OregonOcean.info. A member representing harvest interests is still at large and filling this seat is a priority to working group members.

The meeting began with a review of the Territorial Sea Plan Part 3 and why it is being updated. This also included information regarding Phase 1 products, which are scheduled to be potentially adopted by the Land Conservation and Development Commission at the May 24, 2019 meeting. Meeting discussions focused on preparing the Phase 2 work plan, timeline, and expectations. The group determined the need for an extensive organized discussion focusing on site designation language. This will be facilitated using a group-sourced list of prompting questions.

The meeting concluded with an update on the status of working being done to update the Rocky Shores Natural Resource Inventory. Staff communicated the current data that has been obtained and how it is anticipated to be used in an online user friendly tool as part of community based proposals.

Next Steps-

The Rocky Habitat Working Group will be meeting again for a full day workshop in Newport, Oregon during the first week of June. The exact location and agenda for this workshop are being planned. This workshop will focus on site designation scope and language.
